

Many Children Lose Lives in Burning Canada Hospital

Most of the 350 inmates of the Hospital Were Children and the Only Escape Was by Jumping

DEFECTIVE FIRE ESCAPES COLLAPSED

Farnham, Quebec, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Sixty persons were burned to death or otherwise killed or badly injured today when a fire destroyed the St. Elizabeth Hospital and laundry and badly damaged the adjacent buildings. Twenty-three are known to have lost their lives and six others are unaccounted for and probably a score of others lie dead in the ruins. Most of the 350 who were in the building were children, and a score lost their lives by jumping from the third story windows. The children were asleep on the third floor when the blaze broke out, presumably from a defective flue. Fire escapes which have long been known to have been bad and frequently proved unusable collapsed. The only means of escape was by jumping and those who did not jump were burned to death. At one exit which remained open for a time patients and employees fought like animals. There will be a rigid investigation.

Roumanian Situation Much More Serious In Last Few Days Than Heretofore.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Part of the Russo-Roumanian forces in Dobruja have escaped to old Roumania by fleeing before the Macedonian line, military critics of the semi-official agency declared today. By the capture of Cernavoda yesterday Field Marshal Mackensen has gained control of the military situation in Dobruja which he destroyed. The fleeing Roumanians escaped over the Danube bridge near Cernavoda. After the capture of Cernavoda the troops had escaped over bridge which is the largest in Europe it was dominated by Mackensen's troops. Since the capture of Constantza and Cernavoda the Rou-

Argentine President Shelters Destitute

Is Wealthy and Pays for It From His Own Funds

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Dr. Irigoyen, Argentine's new president, is preparing today to shelter the destitute of Buenos Ayres in public buildings during the hard times. He will pay for their food and clothing out of his own pocket. President Irigoyen was the "people's candidate" who made no speeches or pre-election promises and who rode to his inauguration in a taxicab, having been persuaded not to ride in a street car. He has already announced that he will put his salary of $100,000 back into the treasury.

Our Clearfield subscribers have probably noticed that the carrier boys have made no request for subscription money this month. We have discontinued the weekly collection system and will collect on the last Friday evening and Saturday in the month for that month.

The weekly collection system put you to a great deal of annoyance and we believe you will like it better by the month. It made us a great deal of extra work and added expense. With the monthly collection idea, YOU WILL GET A RECEIPT EVERY TIME YOU PAY the boy. It will eliminate controversies. IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY. This sounds odd in these days of advancing prices. It may be found necessary to advance the price of the Progress but we will not make this move until absolutely forced to do so. Clearfield subscribers are now paying $3.12 per year at the six cents a week rate. Under the monthly payment idea you will pay 3.00 per year.

The boys will collect tomorrow evening and Saturday morning. Please be ready for him. Your receipt will be made out and in his hands. To those who are in arrears, we earnestly ask that they pay up in full and start on the regular monthly list.

Some Difference in Price.

Last week the printing of 36,000 ballots was awarded to Kurtz Bros., their bid of $354. In Blair county he contract was awarded to one of the newspapers of Altoona. In Blair county the total number of the ballots will be 50,700 more than Clearfield county, and the price in that county on comparative bidding was 2,413, only $2,059 more than the price of the local printer.

PUBLIC CLAMORS FOR NEW TRAIN ON B. R. & P.

News That One Is Being Considered Quickly Spreads and Information Sought

MORE ABOUT THAT MEETING

As was stated in the Progress last evening one of the subjects under discussion at the conference of prominent railroad men, representing the Pennsylvania, New York Central and B. R. & P. Ry. companies, was the proposed new train over the B. R. & P. road to connect with the 1:15 Pennsylvania train, mention of which was first exclusively made in the Progress on Monday last.

This new train would be a great convenience to the people of this section, especially those living in the Du Bois region, as has been quite generally demonstrated to the B. R. & P. management since the matter was made public through our columns. Just as soon as DuBois business men given the tip-off the new train or time under consideration they go busy with the company officials and are insisting on having the matter successfully worked out.

A Progress man interviewed Chief Clerk Nichol, of the B. R. & P., following yesterday's conference and while he would not give us anything definite for publication, said our article had started the ball and the Du Bois office had been besieged with inquiries concerning the proposed change and attesting to the popularity of such a train. He stated that his company could not see their way clear at this time to the placing of a new train on the C. & M. branch, inasmuch as the two trains now in service, the 8:05 a. m. and the 4:25 p. m. both made Pennsylvania and New York Central connections at Clearfield for the east, and that while not in a position at this time to say just what would be done following this conference, he felt that if any change was made the train arriving here at 4:25 p. m. might be moved up to make the desired connection with the 1:15 Pennsylvania train. He also said that while the B. R. & P. always took the best care of their local patrons, their train schedules were made up to take care of the traveling public generally, and not the people of DuBois or any other local section. Also that the result of yesterday's conference and report of the local officials in touch with the situation would be transmitted to the officers of the general traffic managers of the different companies and the matter finally determined by these officials.

The matter of a joint station was also discussed at length and the movement in this direction given new life.

Several other matters which concern the joint interests of the three companies were given consideration and when the time is ripe The Progress will tell you of some changes and improvements that will be made which are of interest to our people and the patrons of these roads in this section.

The business of a railroad corporation is not public property until their plans are completed and in shape to be worked out and it is not surprising that some newspapers fail to grasp the situation when news of happenings of import leak out, and they can't get railroad officials whose mouths are closed officially to corroborate the stories, but as we said before, keep your eye on The Progress we will keep you posted on all the doings concerning Clearfield and this region.

Roumanians Tore Up Big Danube Bridge Before Retiring

Greatest Bridge of Europe was 14 Miles Long and Now Railroad is of No Use to the Germans

FRENCH-SERB ADVANCE ON MONASTIR

By Ed. L. Keen (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Oct. 26.—The victorious weep of Mackensen's army in Dobruja has been checked temporarily at least official advices from Berlin Sophia, Petrograd and Bucharest indicate this afternoon. The Roumanians have torn up the 14 mile Danube bridge at Cernavoda, the great bridge in Europe thus blocking the enemy from entering old Roumania. The German war office in reporting this fact this afternoon said that it was evidence of Roumanian fear that the German troops would push on to Bucharest.

Dispatches from Rome and Bucharest discount the victories of the Teutonic allies at Cernavoda. According to dispatches from Rome quoting Bucharest reports the Russo-Roumanian troops tore up the Cernavoda bridge over the Danube, which is 14 miles long and the greatest in Europe and the Teutonic-Bulgarian forces will not be able to use the railway which they fought so hard to win as the main lines cross the bridge. Late dispatches from Berlin confirm the Rome report, that the main body of the Russo-Roumanian forces escaped to the north west and that a smaller section of the army remained guarding the bridge. German troops have made no effort to retake the position gained by the French on the Verdun front when General Nivelle made his great surprise on Tuesday, the war office declared. Artillery action against Baug is violent while infantry troops have not been active since yesterday afternoon. French and Serbian troops continue their advance toward Monastir capturing fourteen important enemy towns and taking two villages.

Emissary of Francisco Villa At El Paso On Political Mission

Conferring With Members of Legistates Hoping to Form Union to Throw Out Carranza.

By Webb Miller
El Paso, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—An emissary from Pancho Villa has been in this city in conference with a number of the new Mexican revolutionary party of Legistates according to reports from the United States department agents here. At least one Villista is known to have crossed over the border on horse back across the Rio Grande near Juarez. At the meeting United States authorities believe an agreement is being reached in which more men will be recruited for service under the new movement. Several United States secret service men have already reported that such an agreement is now in effect. The new revolutionary party in its official publication says that the formation of a new government was to assist in the downfall of Carranza. Some members known to authorities here are wealthy farm land owners in the Southern Republic who are tired of the old regime under which their property was confiscated. Some of these members are very wealthy and are able to financially back the new movement. The authorities here have their eyes on an American filibuster formerly with the Villa band who is suspected of having taken medical and surgical supplies to Villa lately.

Dog Barks His Way Into Soft Snap In Palace of Emperor of Russia

Joy Was Once a Common Ordinary Pauper Dog But Now He Travels With Royalty.

By Wm Philip Simms

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Imperial Headquarters, Russian army, Oct. 3.—(By Mail)—Every dog that is a dog by nature ambitious to own a boy. Here is the story of Joy, the dog who will one day rule Russia.

Even now Joy isn't much to look at, being a smallish, pepper-and-mustard coarse haired fellow with a short, funny tail that never stops wagging. So what must he have been before he adopted the boy Grand Duke, the 12-year-old son of the Emperor? His pedigree was evidently pretty democratic and he had no recollection whatever of ever having seen any dog exactly like himself.

But Joy was a regular dog for all that. He was determined to get himself a boy someday so he was constantly looking over the lads he met as he strayed around town. The war made times hard and picking was never easy, but Joy always kept cheerful despite the housewives' habit of scraping the bones cleaner and cleaner as the days went by.

Suddenly there was a big stir. Grand General Headquarters of the Russian Army was moving to town, whatever that meant, and shortly Joy found things picking up. The troopers always had pieces of meat to throw his way, and his hunger became less worrisome.

Then he found his boy, in a park. He was the most wonderful human being the dog had ever seen. He had on a lovely uniform with a row of medals on his chest. He had a jack-knife too and was whittling on a whip-stick. Instantly the pup's mind was made up. He would own that boy if it was the last thing he ever did in his life.

"Bow-wow-wow!" he barked to call attention to himself. To display his talents somewhat and further interest the lad, he opened his big red mouth into a wide moist grin and squatted gracefully on the ground.

The boy whistled and whapped his finger. Instantly, Joy saw he was making headway so he displaced himself. He jumped up he began to twirl pipes about the boy's legs for all he was worth.

"Here! Here!" the boy exclaimed, but Joy kept up his antics, running, dodging, leaping and stopping very suddenly only to recommence more violently than ever.

"Here you pup! What are you doing? Com' here, will you?" The boy was impatient and Joy felt he must not overdo the thing. So he came to a quick panting stop back in front of the lad, his mouth still wide open, his tongue dripping.

"Chase that!" the boy commanded, throwing his whip-stick down the driveway some distance. Joy went after it so fast his feet slid on the ground when he tried to stop at the stick. He fetched it back, his heart big with the joy of service.

Thus the two played for an hour. The boy was already calling the dog Joy, because of his eternal smile and the mongrel was happy as a king. Never had he had such a good time before with anybody, so when a man wearing a sailor's uniform came out of a two-story house near by and called the lad "Your Imperial Highness" and said His Majesty was waiting inside, it never occurred to the dog to stop behind. He followed the lad to the house.

At the door they would have stopped Joy, but the lad would not have it so. So the two together were admitted into the presence of the Czar, the lad's father.

At first there was remonstrance. It was all right to have a dog, but a clean dog, a dog somebody knew something about. But being a regular boy, the Grand Duke Alexis Nikolai-vich, stood up for his new found playmate, and won his point.

So it is that Joy is now a member of the family. From a pauper-dog he became a Prince-dog and he doesn't seem to mind it in the least. Only there are times when he is sorely troubled and really puzzled in mind. When his boy is called into the class room every morning they invariably and inexorably shut him, Joy, outside?

When Joy strolls out of doors just in time to follow the Emperor to the floor of the Staff Building, he is again rebuffed?

At lunch time, he had to eat all by himself in the kitchen? It doesn't understand these things.

So even Joy, who owns the finest boy in all Russia, has his troubles. Not being born to it, he can't get used to the ways of convention.

Perhaps that is why Joy has acquired his comical look of overhauling inquiry, mixed as it is with unquenchable mirth. He is probably wondering in his canine way just what has happened to him. And he can never quite make it all out.

Mrs. Robert McClure, of Ridge avenue was taken suddenly ill on Monday and since that time has been confined to her bed. Last evening she was reported to be improving.

Mrs. Ed Kelly, residing at Naudin is reported as being seriously ill, and grave fears are entertained for her recovery. She has been an invalid for several years.

The buildings of Summit tannery are going through a process of repairs. Considerable concreting has been done along the outer row of vats and the foundation walls strengthened.

Constable Koth was at Granpian Tuesday evening and arrested a young man of that town on a warrant sworn out by a P. R. R. detective, the charge being disorderly conduct on the train between this place and Granpian. Bail was given for a hearing before Judge Dale, to be held on Friday afternoon.

Dr. H. R. Cunningham, of Juniata, Pa., and Mrs. Georgia Cady, of Curwensville, were married at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Newton, Hamilton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry K. Ash, an uncle of the bride and pastor of the Newton Hamilton Methodist church. The bridegroom is a prominent physician and citizen of the borough of Juniata. The lady is a daughter of Mrs. T. B. Cassidy of Curwensville, and is well known to many admiring friends in this section.

It is an astonishing fact, to learn on investigation, the number of young men in Curwensville who will not be allowed the right franchise on election day, through their inability or neglect to pay a state or county tax within two years. In some cases perhaps it was thoughtlessness, or maybe it was thought someone else would pay as has been done in years gone by. Every American citizen is entitled to a vote for the man or party of his choice, and he should be prepared at any and all times to be in a position to exercise that privilege without challenge at the polls.

The item appearing in Wednesday evening's letter relative to Curwen and Curwensville has started a search for data concerning the same, and old histories of Clearfield county are in great demand. Old residents are busy searching their memory for long forgotten facts that had been handed down to them by the earliest settlers in regard to Clover and his antecedents and also the Bloom family which made a location at or near the "Pee-Wee" nest, before the year, 1800. Many facts and anecdotes will probably result from the research which ought to be interesting and also amusing to the generation of younger people living in town today, whose great grandfathers resided in the present town.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver troubles, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

THAT MADE THEM PAY.

A small tradesman once put up the following sign in his shop: "Please don't ask for credit, as a refusal of ten officers." Finding that this had little effect and that his credit book was attaining great proportions, he resolved on trying another plan, and immediately fixed another notice in place of the former one. "Names and addresses of all those who buy goods at this shop and don't pay for them can be seen in the credit book on payment of a fee of ten cents." The result was miraculous. Not only did the credit book pay their ten cents by the dozen, but those owing accounts speedily settled them until the credit book was a thing of the past.

107 BOYS IN OUR COLLEGES FROM VENEZUELA

Minister McGoodwin Works Out Plan for Sending Them Here to Cement Friendship

ALL WILL BE TRADE BOOSTERS

Washington, Oct. 26.—(By United Press).—One hundred and seven boys from Venezuela now have scholarships in American schools and most of them are already in this country and at their studies, U. S. Minister to Venezuela Preston McGoodwin reports today.

McGoodwin brought about the gift of the scholarships and is spending part of his vacation in this country investigating the success of the plan. He believes it will go far toward improving the understanding between the United States and Venezuela.

"Heretofore, many of the sons of wealthy Latin-Americans have received their higher education in German and French schools and few have come to this country. This is one of the contributing causes for the close commercial relations which those countries have had with South America in the past. Because of this condition, I began over a year ago to work out a scholarship system, with the assistance of the American consuls in Venezuela.

"After correspondence with 400 American institutions of higher learning, we received scholarship offers from 110 and the Venezuelan government has accepted 107 so far. The recipients of the scholarships are chosen by the minister of public instruction. The son of General Gomez, president-elect of Venezuela, now in his second year at West Point preparatory school at Morristown, N. J., is the holder of one of them.

"Among others, one is in the agricultural college of Iowa University, one studying electrical engineering at Washington University, St. Louis, another taking the same course at Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa., and one at St. John's Military Academy, Annapolis, Md. Five of the scholarship winners arrived in this country in September.

"In addition to the scholarship offer a number of American schools are obtaining positions for young men from South America each year in commercial and industrial firms. This is for the purpose of teaching them American business and manufacturing methods.

"Among the institutions which are doing this work is the College of Business Administration of Boston University which has placed a number of South American students with exporting and importing firms. Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., is doing the same thing. Alvin H. Johnson, president of Baldwin Locomotive works of Philadelphia has given two apprenticeships for South American students of engineering and it is expected he will later increase this number. Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., has given four such apprenticeships. Five exporting firms in New York have offered apprenticeships.

"It is to be hoped that the same plan will be developed for young men from the other South American republics. Every man so educated and trained is sure to go back to his native land a booster for Pan-American trade."

San Felice Cigars

FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT AND WORTH IT

Owing to the greatly increased cost of quality tobaccos, in fact everything pertaining to Lion Grade Cigars, the makers of the San Felice cigar, the Deloit-Walker Company, have advanced the selling price to the 5 Cents and 10 Cents, and henceforth this cigar will positively be sold at the constant rate of 5 cents straight instead of six for a quarter, as previously.

The SAN FELICE is national in its scope and character, having attained its eminence through its unexcelled excellence. To maintain this unequalled standard of quality, the advance in question is absolutely unavoidable. The generous support of all men using quality cigars is earnestly desired.

LANCASTER MENNONITES ORGANIZE DRILL COMPANY

Lancaster, Pa., October 26.—The Mennonites of Lancaster, Pa., are organizing a drill company to serve their country without sacrificing their faith. The company is named Private James Goudy, U. S. Marine Corps, while addressing the youthful Mennonites of Lancaster whose religious principles were strictly against the military life. "For the battle is the Lord's," (1 Samuel 17, 47.), and other quotations from the story of David and Goliath, so impressed his hearers that they organized a drill company, with spot under the direction of their patriotic leader.

Private Goudy expects eventually to rally many of his hunky pupils to the ranks of the "soldiers of the cross," a fighting force of which he is an earnest and enthusiastic member.

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN RAID.

With a prominent local Democrat heading the local branch of the Hughes College League and several others quietly letting it be known that they have had enough of grape juice diplomacy local Democrats are in a sympathetic position with London.

YOU SHOULD READ THEM.

In this issue are printed four borough ordinances. Every citizen of Clearfield should read these ordinances. It is a duty that citizens often neglect but to keep abreast of events transpiring in city government the accounts of council meeting and ordinances passed should be carefully perused by every resident of the borough.

A CORPORALS GUARD.

The Wilson and Marshall banner has not yet been hung to the breeze and people are beginning to wonder what is wrong with it. Of course everyone knows it could not stand the elements and it was taken in for repairs and a few know that not a corporals guard have come around to help put it up again. Meanwhile it is gathering dust at the Democratic Headquarters.

DO WE LIVE IN CIVILIZATION?

Before you answer this question take a glance at the "Ants' Page" in this issue. Read the article with the caption "Are we Civilized?". It may be a little creepy. I doubt Third Ward people will watch their children a little closer. Perhaps we won't venture very far out of town limits after dark anymore. They are facts, however, and while we may be enjoying the benefits of civilization, we are about as near to nature as we can get so far as wild animals and snakes are concerned.

WOODWARD BOULTON AND PHILIPS.

With election day only two weeks away the voters of Clearfield and Clearfield County will naturally give more thought than heretofore to matters political and endeavor to decide, if they have not already done so, how they shall cast their ballots for the various offices which are to be filled at the November election.

That the candidacy of Woodward, Boulton and Philips, who are seeking the honor of representing Clearfield County in the Legislature at Harrisburg, appeals strongly to the voters is evident from the many expressions heard on the streets and where ever men congregate and give voice to their views on such matters.

That their strength will increase as they continue their canvass and become better acquainted with the people goes without saying. All are known to be able men. They won the nomination last May by votes which testified to the personal popularity and high esteem which their fellow Republicans placed upon them.

The are just the type of men needed at Harrisburg. All are natives of the county and have resided here all their lives. All have ability in their respective fields of labor and will command respect and attention in the law making body of the Commonwealth.

BEAUTY AROUND US

Have you ever looked at a painted landscape or marine and exclaimed over the beauty of it? Have you ever remarked, "Oh, I don't believe there can be so wonderful a place in the world," or something to that effect? I have.

There is a certain landscape view which hangs in one of the big shops that has always held a certain fascination for me. At last the picture came to mean so much in my life that I purchased a small reproduction of it, and have it hanging in my sitting room.

Never—not for one second—did I believe there really could be such a wonderful spot in the world. It was always my belief that the hand that had wrought the painting belonged to a mind that had dreamed it. To my mother I said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful in reality? But of course there could never be such a spot."

Then I was taken ill with typhoid fever, and after I was able to travel my physician ordered me away for a few weeks before I resumed work at the studios.

Mother of Mine went with me, of course. It was late at night when we reached a hotel far away in the mountains, and, while I knew the surrounding country must be beautiful I thought no more about it until the next morning. After breakfast we went for a little stroll, aimlessly, with no particular destination.

Mother, who was a little way ahead of me, stopped suddenly. "Quick, dear," she called, "here is the spot which you said could never exist, in reality!"

And, as I sprang forward to the edge of the mountain and looked into the valley below, my painting came to life. There was the wonderful country spot which I had believed a phantasy.

But the painting is more valuable to me now than ever before, dear friends. It still hangs in my sunny sitting room, a constant reminder of the beauty of nature which we often times believe is surpassed by art.

DISCOVERED VILLAIN WHO CALLED PITTSBURGH "THE SMOKY CITY"

Back in 1868 he did it—and said night there was "Hell with the lid off."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26.—Sh! The villain has been discovered! But list!—his dirty work shall not persist!

The Smoke Abatement League has smoked him out and is even now trying to ruin his reputation by putting the kibosh on his only classic. The villain was James Parton, a celebrated literary man in his day. He it was who first called Pittsburgh the "Smoky City," according to John O'Connor, secretary of the Smoke Abatement League.

Parton's article with its reference to the "Smoky City" appeared in the Atlantic Monthly of January 1868. The blast furnaces must have lighted up the skies after dark in those days just as they do now for the distinguished writer referred to night in Pittsburgh as "Hell with the lid off." Immediately afterward Parton took occasion to say that at night the city was "more cheerful than by day"—which shows that he didn't have to pay 20 cents carfare to get home at night.

The article has probably been "long forgot" by all who read it but the city's nickname would not die. And now the Smoke Abatement League is preparing to award prizes to persons who, in a recent contest, submitted either nicknames that would emphasize the industrial standing of the city without reference to the "ever-falling soot" that James Parton wrote about back in 1868.

HOME DISTRICT OF MRS. WILSON BATTLEGROUND

Strong Efforts Being Made to Get Republican Congressman Defeated in Virginia

ONLY REPUBLICAN IN STATE

Richmond, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Democratic party managers have concentrated their efforts to supplant the present Republican congressman from the home district of Mrs. Wilson with a Democrat. It is the only Republican district in the state.

They are behind the candidacy of State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, from Mrs. Wilson's home town of Wytheville, to defeat Republican C. Bascome Slomp, candidate for re-election. Among those who have campaigned for Trinkle is Governor Stuart, who was himself beaten by Slomp six years ago.

Democratic candidates who expect to return to Washington are: William A. Jones, Edward E. Holland, Walter A. Watson, Andrew J. McIntague, Edward W. Saunders, Carter Glass, C. C. Carlin and Hal D. Flood. Thomas W. Harrison is due to be named the successor of James Hay, who was chairman of the house military committee, and who resigned to accept appointment on the Court of Claims bench.

U. S. Senator Claude A. Swanson has no opposition. He will be the first U. S. senator chosen by direct vote in Virginia.

NATIONAL MISSIONARY MEETING

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 26.—The annual convention of the National Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church opened today in the new Hennepin avenue church and will continue for a week. More than 200 delegates are in attendance from all parts of the country, together with a hundred or more returned missionaries and a number of bishops of the church. The work of the convention will be devoted to a review of the society's efforts during the past year and the consideration of plans for future activities.

The society is one of the largest and most representative of American missionary bodies. It was first organized in Boston in 1869, for the purpose of sending the gospel to the women of all heathendom. Miss Isabelle Thoburn of Ohio and Miss Clara A. Swain of New York city were the first missionaries sent out by the society and they sailed from New York to India in November 1890. Since then more than 500 missionaries have been sent out. The fields are in Africa, Bahraria, China, Burmah, India, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Malaysia and the Philippines.

HEALTH AGAIN HAD SUFFERED FOR 10 YEARS

Kinter Relieved of Serious Stomach Trouble, Due to Typhoid Fever.

That Taniae is an unusual body invigorant and restorer of the ravages of diseases is indicated by the experience of A. A. Kinter, a switchman on the New York Central Railroad, who resides at 517 Cascade St., Erie, Pa.

Mr. Kinter has had a remarkable restoration to complete health, after ten years of illness. He said:

"I had typhoid fever ten years ago, which left my stomach in very bad condition. I had terribly severe spells periodically, when I could not keep anything I ate on my stomach.

"When I was having these spells, I would be awakened from my sleep by terrible choking spells and it seemed like my chest would burst and my heart would stop. I would be afraid I was going to die before daylight.

"I took all kinds of remedies, but they did me no good.

"Finally, I saw Taniae advertised. I bought a bottle. After the first few doses, its effect on me was almost marvelous.

"My stomach trouble began to disappear, my appetite improved and I was able to eat a big meal and digest it.

"After I had taken three bottles, my health was remarkably improved. Now I can eat whatever I please, I sleep sound as a dollar all night long, and all the bad effects of the typhoid fever are gone."

Taniae is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McPherson where the premier preparation can now be had.

Why

Less mileage

No, Sir; mileage is not altogether a question of gas. Oil's gotta lot to do with it, you bet. Do you know that, in actual tests, cars have been known to yield as much as five additional miles per gallon of gas when the right lubricant was used? 'Sfact.

You oughta be getting that extra mileage, especially since it doesn't cost extra. There's one safe, sure way of taking figures off your gas and oil bill and putting them on the speedometer where they belong.

Use the combination—Atlantic Gas for fuel; Atlantic Motor Oils for lubrication. You can't beat that team anywhere.

Atlantic Polarine is THE oil for eight out of ten cars. The alternative is one of the other three principal oils—Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium" or Atlantic "Heavy."

The reputation of the oldest and largest lubricant manufacturers in the world stands back of these four oils. Start using Atlantic Motor Oils today and note the difference in mileage.

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensive book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they cannot supply you drop us a postal and the book will be sent you without charge.

Squawk!

IN place of a real WARNING, many cars nowadays come equipped with bell "SQUAWKERS." They are about as ineffective in GETTING THEMSELVES HEARD as old-fashioned bells have used to be. You know—you who have those squawkers on your cars. You know how they sound on crowded streets, in noisy traffic. You know how much of the road they get in the country.

Take a ride with a man who has a KLAXON. Notice the difference. See how you get the right of way—how the Klaxon CARRIES, how it gives walkers ahead (and they are good souls after all) plenty of time to get out of the way without jumping—but how they always DO get out of the way!

See how it GETS ITSELF HEARD in the country—half a mile ahead of your coming. You don't have to slow down, shift gears, waste gas and WAIT for the wagon or car ahead to turn out. They have already TURNED OUT when you get there!

And feel its SAFETY of it. Around sharp curves, over steep hills you KNOW the Klaxon has been heard—and that your share of the road is ready and waiting for you.

Think that it over. What is four or six or twelve or even twenty dollars against the discomfort, the slow down, the gas, the anxiety, the actual DANGER of a feeble, ineffective signal!

Get a KLAXON—and WINE IN PEACE!

You can always TELL a Klaxon by its unfailing WARNING POWER and by this name-plate:—

TEN THOUSAND TO SEE HIGHWAY FORMALLY OPENED

Harrisburg, Oct. 26—Ten thousand persons are expected to attend the formal opening of the New York extension of the William Penn Highway, near Easton, Thursday of next week. Of 15,000 persons formally invited by the William Penn Highway Association, 2,000 already have already sent acceptances to headquarters here.

Special trains from Harrisburg and Philadelphia will carry Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, and Governor James F. Fielder, of New Jersey, to Easton. Governor Charles S. Whitman, of New York, is expected to send a representative to the dedication. Special trains will run from New York, Scranton and Pittsburgh, as well as from Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

The William Penn Highway a section of the Pike's-Peak-Ocean-to-Ocean route, runs from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, through the centre of the state. The New York extension runs from Reading to New York through Easton and Phillipsburg, N. J., cutting twenty miles from the overland distance between Harrisburg and New York.

Next week's dedication will be the first big road ceremony staged in the east. The particular section "opened" will be eight miles between Easton and Bethlehem, built of concrete during the past summer by the State Highway Department, with most of the money and material supplied by private interests. Chief Engineer W. D. Uhler, of the State Highway Department says it is "the last word in concrete highway construction."

The Bethlehem Steel Company was one of the road's chief boosters, and Charles M. Schwab will be one of the speakers. He will be introduced by William Jennings of Harrisburg, president of the William Penn Highway Association. The two governors will cut a silver banner across the road and will remove a covering of earth using the same silver spade recently used by Governor Edward P. Dunne in opening a road in Illinois.

Many Children Lose Lives in Burning Canada Hospital

Most of the 350 inmates of the Hospital Were Children and the Only Escape Was by Jumping

DEFECTIVE FIRE ESCAPES COLLAPSED

Farnham, Quebec, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Sixty persons were burned to death or otherwise killed or badly injured today when a fire destroyed the St. Elizabeth Hospital and laundry and badly damaged the adjacent buildings. Twenty-three are known to have lost their lives and six others are unaccounted for and probably a score of others lie dead in the ruins. Most of the 350 who were in the building were children, and a score lost their lives by jumping from the third story windows. The children were asleep on the third floor when the blaze broke out, presumably from a defective flue. Fire escapes which have long been known to have been bad and frequently proved unusable collapsed. The only means of escape was by jumping and those who did not jump were burned to death. At one exit which remained open for a time patients and employees fought like animals. There will be a rigid investigation.

After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride's parents where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served and where the day was spent in joyous festivities.

Roumanian Situation Much More Serious In Last Few Days Than Heretofore.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Part of the Russo-Roumanian forces in Dobruja have escaped to old Roumania by fleeing before the Macedonian line, military critics of the semi-official agency declared today. By the capture of Cernavoda yesterday Field Marshal Mackensen has gained control of the military situation in Dobruja which he destroyed. The fleeing Roumanians escaped over the Danube bridge near Cernavoda. After the capture of Cernavoda the troops had escaped over bridge which is the largest in Europe it was dominated by Mackensen's troops. Since the capture of Constantza and Cernavoda the Rou-

Argentine President Shelters Destitute

Is Wealthy and Pays for It From His Own Funds

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Dr. Irigoyen, Argentine's new president, is preparing today to shelter the destitute of Buenos Ayres in public buildings during the hard times. He will pay for their food and clothing out of his own pocket. President Irigoyen was the "people's candidate" who made no speeches or pre-election promises and who rode to his inauguration in a taxicab, having been persuaded not to ride in a street car. He has already announced that he will put his salary of $100,000 back into the treasury.

Our Clearfield subscribers have probably noticed that the carrier boys have made no request for subscription money this month. We have discontinued the weekly collection system and will collect on the last Friday evening and Saturday in the month for that month.

The weekly collection system put you to a great deal of annoyance and we believe you will like it better by the month. It made us a great deal of extra work and added expense. With the monthly collection idea, YOU WILL GET A RECEIPT EVERY TIME YOU PAY the boy. It will eliminate controversies. IT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY. This sounds odd in these days of advancing prices. It may be found necessary to advance the price of the Progress but we will not make this move until absolutely forced to do so. Clearfield subscribers are now paying $3.12 per year at the six cents a week rate. Under the monthly payment idea you will pay 3.00 per year.

The boys will collect tomorrow evening and Saturday morning. Please be ready for him. Your receipt will be made out and in his hands. To those who are in arrears, we earnestly ask that they pay up in full and start on the regular monthly list.

Some Difference In Price.

Last week the printing of 36,000 ballots was awarded to Kurtz Bros., at their bid of $354. In Blair county he contract was awarded to one of the newspapers of Altoona. In Blair county the total number of the ballots will be 50,700 more than Clearfield county, and the price in that county on comparative bidding was 2,413, only $2,059 more than the price of the local printer.

Towed Into Town

LUCKILY NO ONE WAS HURT

A Pittsburgh traveling man driving a Buick roadster climbed a lumber pile at the Hyde City steel plant yesterday afternoon and while the machine went up the ten foot pile like a squirrel and made the descent on the other side in record breaking time, it failed to alight satisfactorily and as a result the driver and his passenger Jimmy Cayle, of Clearfield, were fished out of the wreckage by spectators and it was necessary to send to Orcutt's garage for a car to haul the wreck back to town.

MINE TIPPLE DAMAGED

An accident occurred at the Patterson Clay Products plant yesterday afternoon, which resulted in considerable damage to the tipple when a rope on the incline broke and let five loaded cars of clay dash down the track and over the dump. Fortunately no person was injured.

PUBLIC CLAMORS FOR NEW TRAIN ON B. R. & P.

News That One Is Being Considered Quickly Spreads and Information Sought

MORE ABOUT THAT MEETING

As was stated in the Progress last evening one of the subjects under discussion at the conference of prominent railroad men, representing the Pennsylvania, New York Central and B. R. & P. Ry. companies, was the proposed new train over the B. R. & P. road to connect with the 1:15 Pennsylvania train, mention of which was first exclusively made in the Progress on Monday last.

This new train would be a great convenience to the people of this section, especially those living in the Du Bois region, as has been quite generally demonstrated to the B. R. & P. management since the matter was made public through our columns. Just as soon as DuBois business men given the tip-off the new train or time under consideration they go busy with the company officials and are insisting on having the matter successfully worked out.

A Progress man interviewed Chief Clerk Nichol, of the B. R. & P., following yesterday's conference and while he would not give us anything definite for publication, said our article had started the ball and the Du Bois office had been besieged with inquiries concerning the proposed change and attesting to the popularity of such a train. He stated that his company could not see their way clear at this time to the placing of a new train on the C. & M. branch, inasmuch as the two trains now in service, the 8:05 a. m. and the 4:25 p. m. both made Pennsylvania and New York Central connections at Clearfield for the east, and that while not in a position at this time to say just what would be done following this conference, he felt that if any change was made the train arriving here at 4:25 p. m. might be moved up to make the desired connection with the 1:15 Pennsylvania train. He also said that while the B. R. & P. always took the best of care of their local patrons, their train schedules were made up to take care of the traveling public generally, and not the people of DuBois or any other local section. Also that the result of yesterday's conference and report of the local officials in touch with the situation would be transmitted to the officers of the general traffic managers of the different companies and the matter finally determined by these officials.

The matter of a joint station was also discussed at length and the movement in this direction given new life. Several other matters which concern the joint interests of the three companies were given consideration and when the time is ripe The Progress will tell you of some changes and improvements that will be made which are of interest to our people and the patrons of these roads in this section.

The business of a railroad corporation is not public property until their plans are completed and in shape to be worked out and it is not surprising that some newspapers fail to grasp the situation when news of happenings of import leak out, and they can't get railroad officials whose mouths are closed officially to corroborate the stories, but as we said before, keep your eye on The Progress we will keep you posted on all the doings concerning Clearfield and this region.

Roumanians Tore Up Big Danube Bridge Before Retiring

Greatest Bridge of Europe was 14 Miles
Long and Now Railroad is of No
Use to the Germans

FRENCH-SERB ADVANCE ON MONASTIR

By Ed. L. Keen
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Oct. 26.—The victorious sweep of Mackensen's army in Dobruja has been checked temporarily at least official advices from Berlin Sophia, Petrograd and Bucharest indicate this afternoon. The Roumanians have torn up the 14 mile Danube bridge at Cernavoda, the great bridge in Europe thus blocking the enemy from entering old Roumania. The German war office in reporting this fact this afternoon said that it was evidence of Roumanian fear that the German troops would push on to Bucharest.

Dispatches from Rome and Bucharest discount the victories of the Teutonic allies at Cernavoda. According to dispatches from Rome quoting Bucharest reports the Russo-Roumanian troops tore up the Cernavoda bridge over the Danube, which is 14 miles long and the greatest in Europe and the Teutonic-Bulgarian forces will not be able to use the railway which they fought so hard to win as the main lines cross the bridge. Late dispatches from Berlin confirm the Rome report, that the main body of the Russo-Roumanian forces escaped to the north west and that a smaller section of the army remained guarding the bridge. German troops have made no effort to retake the position gained by the French on the Verdun front when General Nivelle made his great surprise on Tuesday, the war office declared. Artillery action against Baug is violent while infantry troops have not been active since yesterday afternoon. French and Serbian troops continue their advance toward Monastir capturing fourteen important enemy towns and taking two villages.

Emissary of Francisco Villa At El Paso On Political Mission

Conferring With Members of Legistates Hoping to Form Union to Throw Out Carranza.

By Webb Miller
El Paso, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—An emissary from Pancho Villa has been in this city in conference with a number of the new Mexican revolutionary party of Legistates according to reports from the United States department agents here.

At least one Villista is known to have crossed over the border on horse back across the Rio Grande near Juarez. At the meeting United States authorities believe an agreement is being reached in which more men will be recruited for service under the new movement. Several United States secret service men have already reported that such an agreement is now in effect. The new revolutionary party in its official publication says that the formation of a new government was to assist in the downfall of Carranza. Some members known to authorities here are wealthy farm land owners in the Southern Republic who are tired of the old regime under which their property was confiscated. Some of these members are very wealthy and are able to financially back the new movement. The authorities here have their eyes on an American filibuster formerly with the Villa band who is suspected of having taken medical and surgical supplies to Villa lately.

Dog Barks His Way Into Soft Snap In Palace of Emperor of Russia

Joy Was Once a Common Ordinary Pauper Dog But Now He Travels With Royalty.

By Wm Philip Simms

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Imperial Headquarters, Russian army, Oct. 3.—(By Mail)—Every dog that is a dog by nature ambitious to own a boy. Here is the story of Joy, the dog who will one day rule Russia.

Even now Joy isn't much to look at, being a smallish, pepper-and-mustard coarse haired fellow with a short, funny tail that never stops wagging. So what must he have been before he adopted the boy Grand Duke, the 12-year-old son of the Emperor? His pedigree was evidently pretty democratic and he had no recollection whatever of ever having seen any dog exactly like himself.

But Joy was a regular dog for all that. He was determined to get himself a boy someday so he was constantly looking over the lads he met as he strayed around town. The war made times hard and picking was never easy, but Joy always kept cheerful despite the housewives' habit of scraping the bones cleaner and cleaner as the days went by.

Suddenly there was a big stir. Grand General Headquarters of the Russian Army was moving to town, whatever that meant, and shortly Joy found things picking up. The troopers always had pieces of meat to throw his way, and his hunger became less worrisome.

Then he found his boy, in a park. He was the most wonderful human being the dog had ever seen. He had on a lovely uniform with a row of medals on his chest. He had a jack-knife too and was whittling on a whip-stick. Instantly the pup's mind was made up. He would own that boy if it was the last thing he ever did in his life.

"Bow-wow-wow!" he barked to call attention to himself. To display his talents somewhat and further interest the lad, he opened his big red mouth into a wide moist grin and squatted gracefully on the ground.

The boy whistled and whapped his finger. Instantly, Joy saw he was making headway so he displaced himself further. Leaping up he began to twirl his tail about the boy's legs for all he was worth.

"Here! Here!" the boy exclaimed, but Joy kept up his antics, running, dodging, leaping and stopping very suddenly only to recommence more violently than ever.

"Here you pup! What are you doing? Come here, will you?" The boy was impatient and Joy felt he must not overdo the thing. So he came to a quick panting stop back in front of the lad, his mouth still wide open, his tongue dripping.

"Chase that!" the boy commanded, throwing his whip-stick down the driveway some distance. Joy went after it so fast his feet slid on the ground when he tried to stop at the stick. He fetched it back, his heart big with the joy of service.

Thus the two played for an hour. The boy was already calling the dog Joy, because of his eternal smile and the mongrel was happy as a king. Never had he had such a good time before with anybody, so when a man wearing a sailor's uniform came out of a two-story house near by and called the lad "Your Imperial Highness" and said His Majesty was waiting inside, it never occurred to the dog to stop behind. He followed the lad to the house.

At the door they would have stopped Joy, but the lad would not have it so. So the two together were admitted into the presence of the Czar, the lad's father.

At first there was remonstrance. It was all right to have a dog, but a clean dog, a dog somebody knew something about. But being a regular boy, the Grand Duke Alexis Nikolai-vich, stood up for his new found playmate, and won his point.

So it is that Joy is now a member of the family. From a pauper-dog he became a Prince-dog and he doesn't seem to mind it in the least. Only there are times when he is sorely troubled and really puzzled in mind. When his boy is called into the class room every morning they invariably and inexorably shut him, Joy, outside?

When Joy strolls out of doors just in time to follow the Emperor to the floor of the Staff Building, he is again rebuffed?

At lunch time, he had to eat all by himself in the kitchen? It doesn't understand these things.

So even Joy, who owns the finest boy in all Russia, has his troubles. Not being born to it, he can't get used to the ways of convention.

Perhaps that is why Joy has acquired his comical look of overhauling inquiry, mixed as it is with unquenchable mirth. He is probably wondering in his canine way just what has happened to him. And he can never quite make it all out.

Take a popular prima donna, Miss Dowell Douglas, presented give her a lively active part in which the action is interspersed with some numbers, surround her with a clever company of comedians, singers and dancers, dress her in sartorial creations that will appeal both the feminine and masculine eye. Enhance the stage with a complete scenic investiture, add a quartette of dancing dolls, being sure to have them good looking trim a figure of bubbling over with the exuberance of youth—girls who can dance in time to lively music, then keep the action up to the highest pitch of efficiency for two and a quarter hours and the result will satisfy the most critical of audiences. A new building is in process of erection at the end of the R. R. & P. station platform. Some other improvements will be made around and about the main building.

Mrs. Robert McClure, of Ridge avenue was taken suddenly ill on Monday and since that time has been confined to her bed. Last evening she was reported to be improving.

Mrs. Ed Kelly, residing at Naudin is reported as being seriously ill, and grave fears are entertained for her recovery. She has been an invalid for several years.

The buildings of Summit tannery are going through a process of repairs. Considerable concreting has been done along the outer row of vats and the foundation walls strengthened.

Constable Koth was at Granpian Tuesday evening and arrested a young man of that town on a warrant sworn out by a P. R. R. detective, the charge being disorderly conduct on the train between this place and Granpian. Bail was given for a hearing before Judge Dale, to be held on Friday afternoon.

Dr. H. R. Cunningham, of Juniata, Pa., and Mrs. Georgia Cady, of Curwensville, were married at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Newton, Hamilton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry K. Ash, an uncle of the bride and pastor of the Newton Hamilton Methodist church. The bridegroom is a prominent physician and citizen of the borough of Juniata. The lady is a daughter of Mrs. T. B. Cassidy of Curwensville, and is well known to many admiring friends in this section.

It is an astonishing fact, to learn on investigation, the number of young men in Curwensville who will not be allowed the right franchise on election day, through their inability or neglect to pay a state or county tax within two years. In some cases perhaps it was thoughtlessness, or maybe it was thought someone else would pay as has been done in years gone by. Every American citizen is entitled to a vote for the man or party of his choice, and he should be prepared at any and all times to be in a position to exercise that privilege without challenge at the polls.

The item appearing in Wednesday evening's letter relative to Curwen and Curwensville has started a search for data concerning the same, and old histories of Clearfield county are in great demand. Old residents are busy searching their memory for long forgotten facts that had been handed down to them by the earliest settlers in regard to Clover and his antecedents and also the Bloom family which made a location at or near the "Pee-Wee" nest, before the year, 1800. Many facts and anecdotes will probably result from the research which ought to be interesting and also amusing to the generation of younger people living in town today, whose great grandfathers resided in the present town.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver troubles, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

THAT MADE THEM PAY.

A small tradesman once put up the following sign in his shop: "Please don't ask for credit, as a refusal often offends." Finding that this had little effect and that his credit book was attaining great proportions, he resolved on trying another plan, and immediately fixed another notice in place of the former one. "Names and addresses of all those who buy goods at this shop and don't pay for them can be seen in the credit book on payment of a fee of ten cents." The result was miraculous. Not only did the curious pay their ten cents by the dozen, but those owing accounts speedily settled them until the credit book was a thing of the past.

107 BOYS IN OUR COLLEGES FROM VENEZUELA

ALL WILL BE TRADE BOOSTERS

Washington, Oct. 26.—(By United Press).—One hundred and seven boys from Venezuela now have scholarships in American schools and most of them are already in this country and at their studies, U. S. Minister to Venezuela Preston McGoodwin reports today.

McGoodwin brought about the gift of the scholarships and is spending part of his vacation in this country investigating the success of the plan. He believes it will go far toward improving the understanding between the United States and Venezuela.

"Heretofore, many of the sons of wealthy Latin-Americans have received their higher education in German and French schools and few have come to this country. This is one of the contributing causes for the close commercial relations which those countries have had with South America in the past. Because of this condition, I began over a year ago to work out a scholarship system, with the assistance of the American consuls in Venezuela.

"After correspondence with 400 American institutions of higher learning, we received scholarship offers from 110 and the Venezuelan government has accepted 107 so far. The recipients of the scholarships are chosen by the minister of public instruction. The son of General Gomez, president-elect of Venezuela, now in his second year at West Point preparatory school at Morristown, N. J., is the holder of one of them.

"Among others, one is in the agricultural college of Iowa University, one studying electrical engineering at Washington University, St. Louis, another taking the same course at Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa., and one at St. John's Military Academy, Annapolis, Md. Five of the scholarship winners arrived in this country in September.

"In addition to the scholarship offer for a number of American schools are obtaining positions for young men from South America each year in commercial and industrial firms. This is for the purpose of teaching them American business and manufacturing methods.

"Among the institutions which are doing this work is the College of Business Administration of Boston University which has placed a number of South American students with exporting and importing firms. Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., is doing the same thing. Alvin H. Johnson, president of Baldwin Locomotive works of Philadelphia has given two apprenticeships for South American students of engineering and it is expected he will later increase this number. Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., has given four such apprenticeships. Five exporting firms in New York have offered apprenticeships.

"It is to be hoped that the same plan will be developed for young men from the other South American republics. Every man so educated and trained is sure to go back to his native land a booster for Pan-American trade."

LANCASTER MENNONITES ORGANIZE DRILL COMPANY

Lancaster, Pa., October 26.—The Mennonites of Lancaster, Pa., can serve your country without sacrificing your faith! The Mennonite Private James Goudy, U. S. "For the battle is the Lord's" (1 Samuel 17, 47.), and other quotations from the story of David and Goliath, so impressed his hearers that they organized a drill company, to spot under the direction of their patriotic leader.

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN RAID.

With a prominent local Democrat heading the local branch of the Hughes College League and several others quietly letting it be known that they have had enough of grape juice diplomacy local Democrats are in a sympathetic position with London.

YOU SHOULD READ THEM.

In this issue are printed four borough ordinances. Every citizen of Clearfield should read these ordinances. It is a duty that citizens often neglect but to keep abreast of events transpiring in city government the accounts of council meeting and ordinances passed should be carefully perused by every resident of the borough.

A CORPORALS GUARD.

The Wilson and Marshall banner has not yet been flung to the breeze and people are beginning to wonder what is wrong with it. Of course everyone knows it could not stand the elements and it was taken in for repairs and a few know that not a corporals guard have come around to help put it up again. Meanwhile it is gathering dust at the Democratic Headquarters.

DO WE LIVE IN CIVILIZATION?

Before you answer this question take a glance at the "Ants' Page" in this issue. Read the article with the caption "Are we Civilized?". It may be a little creepy. I doubt Third Ward people will watch their children a little closer. Perhaps we won't venture very far out of town limits after dark anymore. They are facts, however, and while we may be enjoying the benefits of civilization, we are about as near to nature as we can get so far as wild animals and snakes are concerned.

WOODWARD BOULTON AND PHILIPS.

With election day only two weeks away the voters of Clearfield and Clearfield County will naturally give more thought than heretofore to matters political and endeavor to decide, if they have not already done so, how they shall cast their ballots for the various offices which are to be filled at the November election.

That the candidacy of Woodward, Boulton and Philips, who are seeking the honor of representing Clearfield County in the Legislature at Harrisburg, appeals strongly to the voters is evident from the many expressions heard on the streets and where ever men congregate and give voice to their views on such matters.

That their strength will increase as they continue their canvass and become better acquainted with the people goes without saying. All are known to be able men. They won the nomination last May by votes which testified to the personal popularity and high esteem which their fellow Republicans placed upon them.

The are just the type of men needed at Harrisburg. All are natives of the county and have resided here all their lives. All have ability in their respective fields of labor and will command respect and attention in the law making body of the Commonwealth.

BEAUTY AROUND US

Have you ever looked at a painted landscape or marine and exclaimed over the beauty of it? Have you ever remarked, "Oh, I don't believe there can be so wonderful a place in the world," or something to that effect? I have.

There is a certain landscape view which hangs in one of the big shops that has always held a certain fascination for me. At last the picture came to mean so much in my life that I purchased a small reproduction of it, and have it hanging in my sitting room.

Never—not for one second—did I believe there really could be such a wonderful spot in the world. It was always my belief that the hand that had wrought the painting belonged to a mind that had dreamed it. To my mother I said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful in reality? But of course there could never be such a spot."

Then I was taken ill with typhoid fever, and after I was able to travel my physician ordered me away for a few weeks before I resumed work at the studios.

Mother of Mine went with me, of course. It was late at night when we reached a hotel far away in the mountains, and, while I knew the surrounding country must be beautiful I thought no more about it until the next morning. After breakfast we went for a little stroll, aimlessly, with no particular destination.

Mother, who was a little way ahead of me, stopped suddenly. "Quick, dear," she called, "here is the spot which you said could never exist, in reality!"

And, as I sprang forward to the edge of the mountain and looked into the valley below, my painting came to life. There was the wonderful country spot which I had believed a phantasm.

But the painting is more valuable to me now than ever before, dear friends. It still hangs in my sunny sitting room, a constant reminder of the beauty of nature which we often times believe is surpassed by art.

DISCOVERED VILLAIN WHO CALLED PITTSBURGH "THE SMOKY CITY"

Back in 1868 he did it—and said night there was "Hell with the lid off."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26.—Sh! The villain has been discovered! But list!—his dirty work shall not persist!

The Smoke Abatement League has smoked him out and is even now trying to ruin his reputation by putting the kibosh on his only classic. The villain was James Parton, a celebrated literary man in his day. He it was who first called Pittsburgh the "Smoky City," according to John O'Connor, secretary of the Smoke Abatement League.

Parton's article with its reference to the "Smoky City" appeared in the Atlantic Monthly of January 1868. The blast furnaces must have lighted up the skies after dark in those days just as they do now for the distinguished writer referred to night in Pittsburgh as "Hell with the lid off." Immediately afterward Parton took occasion to say that at night the city was "more cheerful than by day"—which shows that he didn't have to pay 20 cents carfare to get home at night.

The article has probably been "long forgot" by all who read it but the city's nickname would not die. And now the Smoke Abatement League is preparing to award prizes to persons who, in a recent contest, submitted either nicknames that would emphasize the industrial standing of the city without reference to the "ever-falling soot" that James Parton wrote about back in 1868.

HOME DISTRICT OF MRS. WILSON BATTLEGROUND

ONLY REPUBLICAN IN STATE

Richmond, Oct. 26.—(By United Press)—Democratic party managers have concentrated their efforts to supplant the present Republican congressman from the home district of Mrs. Wilson with a Democrat. It is the only Republican district in the state.

They are behind the candidacy of State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, from Mrs. Wilson's home town of Wytheville, to defeat Republican C. Bascome Slomp, candidate for re-election. Among those who have campaigned for Trinkle is Governor Stuart, who was himself beaten by Slomp six years ago.

Democratic candidates who expect to return to Washington are: William A. Jones, Edward E. Holland, Walter A. Watson, Andrew J. McIntague, Edward W. Saunders, Carter Glass, C. C. Carlin and Hal D. Flood. Thomas W. Harrison is due to be named the successor of James Hay, who was chairman of the house military committee, and who resigned to accept appointment on the Court of Claims bench.

U. S. Senator Claude A. Swanson has no opposition. He will be the first U. S. senator chosen by direct vote in Virginia.

NATIONAL MISSIONARY MEETING

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 26.—The annual convention of the National Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church opened today in the new Hennepin avenue church and will continue for a week. More than 200 delegates are in attendance from all parts of the country, together with a hundred or more returned missionaries and a number of bishops of the church. The work of the convention will be devoted to a review of the society's efforts during the past year and the consideration of plans for future activities.

The society is one of the largest and most representative of American missionary bodies. It was first organized in Boston in 1869, for the purpose of sending the gospel to the women of all heathendom. Miss Isabelle Thoburn of Ohio and Miss Clara A. Swain of New York city were the first missionaries sent out by the society and they sailed from New York to India in November 1870. Since then more than 500 missionaries have been sent out. The fields are in Africa, Bahraria, China, Burmah, India, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Malaysia and the Philippines.

HEALTH AGAIN HAD SUFFERED FOR 10 YEARS

Kinter Relieved of Serious Stomach Trouble, Due to Typhoid Fever.

That Taniae is an unusual body invigorant and restorer of the ravages of diseases is indicated by the experience of A. A. Kinter, a switchman on the New York Central Railroad, who resides at 517 Cascade St., Erie, Pa.

Mr. Kinter has had a remarkable restoration to complete health, after ten years of illness. He said:

"I had typhoid fever ten years ago, which left my stomach in very bad condition. I had terribly severe spells periodically, when I could not keep anything I ate on my stomach.

"When I was having these spells, I would be awakened from my sleep by terrible choking spells and it seemed like my chest would burst and my heart would stop. I would be afraid I was going to die before daylight.

"I took all kinds of remedies, but they did me no good.

"Finally, I saw Taniae advertised. I bought a bottle. After the first few doses, its effect on me was almost marvelous.

"My stomach trouble began to disappear, my appetite improved and I was able to eat a big meal and digest it.

"After I had taken three bottles, my health was remarkably improved. Now I can eat whatever I please, I sleep sound as a dollar all night long, and all the bad effects of the typhoid fever are gone."

Taniae is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McPherson where the premier preparation can now be had.

Why

Less mileage

No, Sir; mileage is not altogether a question of gas. Oil's gotta lot to do with it, you bet. Do you know that, in actual tests, cars have been known to yield as much as five additional miles per gallon of gas when the right lubricant was used? 'Fact.

You oughta be getting that extra mileage, especially since it doesn't cost extra. There's one safe, sure way of taking figures off your gas and oil bill and putting them on the speedometer where they belong.

Use the combination—Atlantic Gas for fuel; Atlantic Motor Oils for lubrication. You can't beat that team anywhere.

Atlantic Polarine is THE oil for eight out of ten cars. The alternative is one of the other three principal oils—Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium" or Atlantic "Heavy."

The reputation of the oldest and largest lubricant manufacturers in the world stands back of these four oils. Start using Atlantic Motor Oils today and note the difference in mileage.

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensive book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they cannot supply you drop us a postal and the book will be sent you without charge.

Squawk!

IN place of a real WARNING signal many cars nowadays come equipped with feeble "SQUAWKERS." They are about as ineffective in GETTING THEMSELVES HEARD as old-fashioned bulb horns used to be. You know—you who have these squawkers on your cars. You know how they get in crowded streets, in noisy traffic. You know how much of the road they get in the country.

Take a ride with a man who has a KLAXON. Notice the difference. See how you get the right of way—how the Klaxon CARRIES, how it gives walkers ahead (and they are good souls after all) plenty of time to get out of the way without jumping—but how they always DO get out of the way!

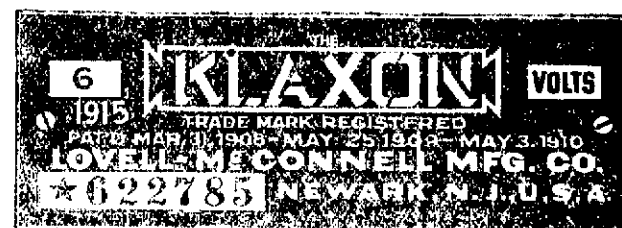

See how it GETS ITSELF HEARD in the country—half a mile ahead of your coming. You don't have to slow down, shift gears, waste gas and WAIT for the wagon or car ahead to turn out. They have already TURNED OUT when you get there!

And feel the SAFETY of it. Around sharp turns, over steep hills you KNOW the Klaxon has been heard—and that your share of the road is ready and waiting for you.

Then—think it over. What is four or six or twelve or even twenty dollars against the discomfort, the slow-downs, the gas-waste, the anxiety, the actual DANGER of a feeble, ineffective signal!

Get a KLAXON—and RIDE IN PEACE!

You can always TELL a Klaxon by its unfailing WARNING POWER and by this name-plate:—

TEN THOUSAND TO SEE HIGHWAY FORMALLY OPENED

Harrisburg, Oct. 26—Ten thousand persons are expected to attend the formal opening of the New York extension of the William Penn Highway, near Easton, Thursday of next week. Of 15,000 persons formally invited by the William Penn Highway Association, 2,000 already have accepted to headquarters here.

Special trains from Harrisburg and Philadelphia will carry Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, and Governor James F. Fielder, of New Jersey, to Easton. Governor Charles S. Whitman, of New York, is expected to send a representative to the dedication. Special trains will run from New York, Scranton and Pittsburgh, as well as from Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

The William Penn Highway a section of the Pike's-Peak-Ocean-to-Ocean route, runs from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, through the centre of the state. The New York extension runs from Reading to New York through Easton and Phillipsburg, N. J., cutting twenty miles from the overland distance between Harrisburg and New York.

Next week's dedication will be the first big road ceremony staged in the east. The particular section "opened" will be eight miles between Easton and Bethlehem, built of concrete during the past summer by the State Highway Department, with most of the money and material supplied by private interests. Chief Engineer W. D. Uhler, of the State Highway Department says it is "the last word in concrete highway construction."

The Bethlehem Steel Company was one of the road's chief boosters, and Charles M. Schwab will be one of the speakers. He will be introduced by William Jennings of Harrisburg, president of the William Penn Highway Association. The two governors will cut a silver banner across the road and will remove a covering of earth using the same silver spade recently used by Governor Edward P. Dunne in opening a road in Illinois.
